S3 Success Stories

It's amazing to have the opportunity to connect with my classmates through the love of Christ. I have been an S3 leader for multiple years and leading my friends and peers in the Word is one of my favorite things to do. Telling people about the love of God is now something I feel very comfortable doing. Emily, M.S. student

A group of kids were mean to me. I was angry and sad. After joining S3, I made new friends that were kind and I gained confidence knowing I wasn't alone. I learned how to pray for those who lashed out at me and that with God I can deal with anything. Matthew, M.S. student

S3 has been such an encouragement for me! Becoming a part of S3 held me accountable to not conform to our sometimes-scary world, and to stand firm in my faith. Promise, S3 H.S. student

My closest teammates and I grew up in Christian homes, but at times we struggled with living out our faith in high school. Sitting together for S3 Club meetings helped motivate us to put our faith back as our highest priority. Clay, S3 alumnus

The smell of weed in the halls, the fighting, the disrespect and anger I saw [at school] brought tears to my eyes. Sadly, so many students are dealing with suicide and depression, broken families, and broken hearts. We need more S3 Clubs in schools, reminding kids that God knows them and has a plan for their lives. Tia, S3 alumna

Clearly the secular world is at war with our faith and our children are tragically caught in the middle. They must be armed to defend their faith in a world determined to win their allegiance. S3 strengthened our daughters for the next chapter in life...college! Lisa, S3 Mom

S3 has discovered a powerful and legal way for students to meet on the public-school campus in order to study the Bible and encourage one another to live out their Christian faith. Kelly Shackelford, President of First Liberty
